

Pamela Gray

Reflection in reflection. visiting my mother in her assisted living facility through the window. In the notes, I explained that she was bruised from a recent fall (she's okay) - but I was still not allowed inside... but I'm so happy it made her smile.

