

[INAUDIBLE] came in, obviously, with COVID-19 pneumonia. She developed respiratory failure, where she was in ICU requiring mechanical ventilation. And she had a pretty prolonged course in ICU on the ventilator, but eventually we were able to get her off the ventilator and discharged to our rehab facility.

It's an amazing feeling. We don't get to see it often, so it's an amazing feeling when somebody recovers, gets their life back in order, and able to come back and see us. Makes a big difference for us through these rough times, it definitely is an amazing feeling.
