Week One

Monday April 6 2020: Today I wake up, take a shower and then go to my online geology class. I realized that this class became even harder due to the coronavirus. I then have history and I am confused about what I should make my question. I start by looking up more on the coronavirus and looking at the death rates. I feel shocked.

Tuesday April 7 2020: Today is my off day, I start off by taking a shower, while I'm in the shower I am not able to relax because I have a test tomorrow in philosophy and feel overwhelmed and frustrated by my lack of motivation, due to staying home and not moving around so much I can feel my own laziness.

Wednesday April 8 2020: I woke up took a shower, and today I had music I really enjoy this class but I miss being in person it was interactive and I miss being around other people. I have started having long phone conversations with friends to make up for my boredom and loneliness. I am frustrated with the philosophy test and by the end of the day I just turn it in.

Thursday April 9 2020: Today I took a shower, do the geology quiz I started becoming closer to my siblings and we kept playing uno.

Friday April 10 2020: I take a shower and I am in a pretty good mood I am happy to be on break and I feel very good I needed that break. Me and my siblings were keeping each other entertained, we watched frozen two.

Saturday April 11 2020: I found out that the amazon my mom works at their was someone who tested positive for corona, I am so upset that they didn't inform any of the employees because they didn't want to pay them to not be there. My sister and I called the governor and we were pissed. We couldn't directly speak to him but the person we spoke to sounded like he didn't care and took it as a joke. Afterword's we talked to amazon HR, and they did not care what my sister had to say who was speaking anonymously because she didn't want my mom to get fired.

However the HR lady told her if she doesn't say her ID number to identify who she is, they cant take her concern. I am worried for my mom safety and everyone else's.

Sunday April 12 2020: I took a shower and it was a pretty chill day I was shocked that it snowed today but the snow looked pretty, tomorrow is my moms birthday but she has to go to work so we cant celebrate. I wish she didn't have to work so much.
