

Hi My Name is Eiza AlDhakebi and I am a student at university of Arizona, I am in Information of Technology and sciences college. I like to play video games and to random stuff on my computer.

So I am travelling right now and the flight is too long, first I went from Dubai to Seattle and the flight was 14 hours long with 5 hours of staying at the airport. While waiting I ate a pizza from a place looked like a cinema from the 80s, and drank cortado coffee from a random place, actually everything here looked random and I am waiting for the next flight from Seattle to Tucson ♡ HOME

What I think I am gonna do is reach home and chill abit and eat dinner at in-n-out or Lane's and meet with the boys and do some random shit / get some sleep and go wild next day ya
