NRCA recognizes this is a time of uncertainty, and we want to provide a clearinghouse of information and resources addressing various issues you may be facing in managing your business through the crisis. This includes best practices for prevention; links to authoritative information from the Centers for Disease Control, World Health Organization and Occupational Safety and Health Administration; legal resources, including key contract provisions; insurance resources; federal financial assistance; employers' and employees' rights; and more. Check back often as we will provide updates on an ongoing basis.

Keeping the Workplace Safe with COVID-19

Centers for Disease Control and World Health Organization

The Centers for Disease Control provides regular updates about the COVID-19 virus, prevention, what do if you are sick, a workplace poster, etc.; and the World Health Organization offers guidance for getting workplaces ready for COVID-19.
