

Mission Statement:

The military collection in the JOTPY archive is meant to collect items pertaining to the military experience during the Covid-19 pandemic. This includes not just military personnel but also their families who are equally affected. This significant aspect of society needs to be represented in order to give a comprehensive picture to future generations about the effect of Covid-19 pandemic survivors in all aspects of society.