

The mission of the COVID Bride collection is to display the variety of emotions, options, and situations. During the pandemic, many people have had the happiest time of their lives greatly affected. I consider it my privilege to provide a collection which these individuals can find answers and information on how to proceed with their own and feel that they are not alone.