

little things

suburban rainbows
dusty teddy bear watchdogs carpet picnics and ambitious bakes.
walks on different streets at different times on different days.

Team meetings and team workouts. Zoom calls, facetime, letters in envelopes in mail boxes in hearts. Watch parties and youtube links and GIFS and dominion and codenames and falling asleep to the sound of voices.

Doorstop drop offs and tearful elbow bumps. Virtual hugs
and shared grief. Postponed early weddings, engagements fast forwarded, break ups paused, move ins and outs of relationships of examined-how do we do?
How are you- really?

Tiktok, tea, time moves slowly and all at once.

Autumn leaves. Mud. Chocolate.
Poetry left as voicemail, 14 hours in the future, in the past. Books shared, inhaled page by page.

Colouring in, emails full of grace, rain, rain, rain, reign of grace.

Mermaid tail dives into sacred text- washing
over mottled skin,
exposing and cleansing and exfoliating and refining – faith stands.

Comfortable clothes, comfortable shoes.
No shoes...

Questions and answers whispered and typed unordinary.

Chalk drawings, hopscotch, running out of tears and time and patience and space.

Intergenerational, international, interstate, introspective calls.
Gratitude. Gratefulness. Gentleness. Goodness.

Hope.

The sun sets, and rises.
